

VIKING LONGSHIP

Viking longships had a large square sail, as well as oars. While on board, the Vikings are believed to have fixed their shields to the outside of the ship to protect them from the wind and rain as they rowed.

